

Concrete Playground

Available from:

sydney.concreteplayground.com.au/event/43479/edge-of-elsewhere.htm

The header features a navigation menu with links for ABOUT US, ADVERTISE, CURRENT ISSUE, and iArt. Below this is the Concrete Playground logo and city locations: SYDNEY / MELBOURNE / BRISBANE / AUCKLAND. A secondary navigation bar includes EVENTS, NEWS & FEATURES, BARS, RESTAURANTS, SUBSCRIBE, and CALENDAR. A search bar is also present.

PREVIEW MAP

EDGE OF ELSEWHERE

When: Saturday, 14 January - Sunday, 18 March
Where: Campbelltown Arts Centre, Cnr Camden & Appin Rds, Campbelltown
How much: FREE

Like Be the first of your friends to like this.

An edgy, awe-inspiring fusion of multi-cultural artwork is set to light up suburban Sydney's consistently brilliant Campbelltown Arts, as part of the Sydney Festival. Edge Of Elsewhere, a three-year project that celebrates the various cultural layers of Sydney, will feature 13 contemporary works out of Asia, the Pacific and Australia. And being the project's final year, they've knocked together some pretty fascinating stuff.

New Zealand performance artist Shigeyuki Kihara, who has shown at New York City's Met Museum in the past, delivers a live show inspired by the German colonisation of Samoa in the early 1900s. It was a time when Samoan families were exhibited in human zoos. Also contributing is indigenous Australian artist and political activist Richard Bell, who will present a documentary about the infamous Aboriginal rights' protests at Musgrave Park in 1982. It will be the first time the doco has ever been shown. Then there's Jun Nguyen-Hatsushiba, a Vietnamese-based artist who attempted to run 12,000 kilometers, the diameter of the Earth, to raise awareness surrounding refugees.

Edge Of Elsewhere will also show at the 4A Centre For Contemporary Asian Art in Haymarket. Get amongst it.

By Kristie Lau

Will You Be Attending?

Yes Maybe No iCal

MOST POPULAR

BARS RESTAURANTS NEWS EVENTS

MCA OPENING WEEKEND
Museum of Contemporary Art

ART AT NIGHT
All around Sydney

STUART RINGHOLT'S NAKED ART TOURS
Museum of Contemporary Art

Text:

An edgy, awe-inspiring fusion of multi-cultural artwork is set to light up suburban Sydney's consistently brilliant Campbelltown Arts, as part of the Sydney Festival. Edge Of Elsewhere, a three-year project that celebrates the various cultural layers of Sydney, will feature 13 contemporary works out of Asia, the Pacific and Australia. And being the project's final year, they've knocked together some pretty fascinating stuff.

New Zealand performance artist Shigeyuki Kihara, who has shown at New York City's Met Museum in the past, delivers a live show inspired by the German colonisation of Samoa in the early 1900s. It was a time when Samoan families were exhibited in human zoos. Also contributing is indigenous Australian artist and political activist Richard Bell, who will present a documentary about the infamous Aboriginal rights' protests at Musgrave Park in 1982. It will be the first time the doco has ever been shown. Then there's Jun Nguyen-Hatsushiba, a Vietnamese-based artist who attempted to run 12,000 kilometers, the diameter of the Earth, to raise awareness surrounding refugees.